

C. P. R. Lose Appeal

The returns of the town from the taxes source are $5000 better off as the result of the dismissal of the appeal from the decision of the Court of Revision some weeks ago on the question of the right of the town to this town. On Tuesday morning, the case was heard by Judge Crawford of Maeland, Mr. McGuire appearing for the plaintiff company and H. O. Jones for the town. Mr. McGuire claimed the assessment was excessive and called the town assessor as his witness. Mr. Wales was closely questioned as to how he had arrived at the valuation of the property of the company. He had based his valuation not upon the comparison of values with other land adjoining but rather upon the supposed value to the railway company of the land. He stated that the other railway to be used for similar purposes. It would be impossible to place a value upon any land without some consideration of the purposes for which the land was to be employed. This was not satisfactory to the judge of the single tax. In making the assessment for 1912 the assessor had used his judgment independent of the fact that with the adoption of a single tax system it was necessary to raise as great a revenue as for 1911 but in a different way. He had reduced the assessment on some property as much as twenty per cent. below the assessment for 1911. He stated that other assessments as high as 100 per cent over those of 1911. There had been no action taken by any of the ratepayers to appeal on the 1912

C. P. R. Mr. McCaig in addressing his honor Judge Crawford referred to the increase in the assessment of 1912 over that of 1911 and contended that there was nothing in the conditions prevailing in Claresholm to justify an increase in the assessment.

There had been no appeal from a lowman because the riteplayers knew that the revenue had to be raised somehow and it must come out of the land. The only way to do this was a partial assessment at actual cash value. The receiving of some parcels of company land at $5000 an acre, others at $4500 and others at $4000 was not excessive. Mr. Haslam in reply contended that the plaintiff lawyer had not shown that the assessment was excessive. He had produced no evidence that the value of the land in question at a lower amount than the assessment called for. He had not produced any evidence that the value of the property had decreased in actual fact. He said that the plaintiff would the railway be willing to sell the land in question at the price set by the assessment? Would they sell it to another railway for the price set by the assessment? He said that he thought it was up to the company to produce evidence as to the value of the land in question. It was the duty of the company to clear this up. He said that the plaintiff lawyer had not the place of the judge to use his personal opinions as to the value. No evidence had been placed before the court as to the assessment being excessive. The plaintiff lawyer was dismissed. This being the court of last resort no further appeal can be made so the smile you see on the railway's face is easily accounted for.

To expect a single advertisement to pay is as foolish as to hope to grow fat from the effect of one dinner.—Ex.

Shed Collapses: Horses Killed

A very serious loss was suffered by O. J. Amundsen last Sunday when the collapse of a straw-covered shed, which valuable young horses were either smothered or injured so that they froze to death. The horses were running some distance from the house and there was water in the field and a rather flimsily constructed shed, over which the three-shed straw had been placed, the animals did not require any attention. But some time during the high winds prevailing just Saturday or Sunday the shed was blown over imprisoning the young horses. The intense cold of those two nights did the rest and when found the animals were frozen stiff. The loss to Mr. Amundsen will be a heavy one.

The Course of True Love Is Ruffled

It is a sweet little story that is "Unfolded in the three-act comedy, 'Sweet Lavender' which is being put on the boards at the Open House next Monday by some of our best local talent. The adopted son of the rich banker, a briefless hanger, falls in love with the sweet little daughter of the lady who takes care of his apartments in the Tupper Hotel. The young man, a matrimonial plans for his adopted son desiring that he should form an alliance with a young lady who had been the young man's playmate in his childhood, is disappointed when the daughter of an elderly lady, a customer of the bank. The young lady is not seriously in love with the plans made for her and eventually falls in love with the adopted son of the banker. The banker, from a serious accident and who, in pursuit of every attempt to snub him, permits the object of his affections to fall she surrenders. The mother of the young lady, who is disappointed as she supposes from disappointment and disenchanted when the young man shall discover the social chasm which is supposed to exist between the daughter of the banker and the adopted son to the level of the poor girl and when he discovers that the mother of Lavender is his own sweetheart of childhood, the young man is wronged, all barriers are broken down and Lavender and her lover and the American and his love are

Council Organized
For 1913

The first meeting of the 1913 council was held last Monday evening in the Council Chamber. The councillors were all present. The committees for the year's work were struck: Finance and Police—James, Braren, Reynolds; Light—Braren, Hutton, Rioux; Water—Reynolds, Rioux, James; Local Improvements—Hutton, Booth, Reynolds; Fire—Booth, Braren Hutton; Hospital, Relief and Public Health—James, Rioux, James; Deputy Mayor—Hutton.

Upon motion Dr. Steeves was appointed Medical Officer of Health, H. O. Haslam, Town Solicitor, Health Committee—Mayor Holmes, Dr. Steeves, O. J. Amundsen, Wm. Moffatt, Sr., H. Duncan; Hospital Committee—Rev. Wm. McNichol, Jas. McKinney, Geo. Wilson; License Executive officer under the Beer Act, Poundkeeper, etc.

R. Cameron

Mr. Barber was present to ask permission of the council to place a gas jet in his oven for lighting purposes. The secretary was instructed to write the Gas Co. regarding this matter. Mr. Barber wishes to use this jet at a time when the electric light is not available and in any case it would be impracticable to turn on the gas at the time the gas jet is required by the petitioner. Through his solicitor, Mr. Watt, he also asked the withholding of the enforcement of 1913 f the license by-law regarding restaurants until the legality of the by-law be established. This request was refused. It was pointed out by the mayor that the restaurant license was intended as a protection to the public and that the petitioner pretended to prevent irresponsible persons starting in the business long

Grain Grower's Grain Co.

Aided by Alberta Government to Extend Elevator System

TO BUILD SIXTY ELEVATORS IN THE PROVINCE

(Special To The News-Telegram)
WINNIPEG, Jan. 6.—It was announced here at noon, today, that the government of Alberta has practically decided to guarantee the sale of the Manitoba Grain Growers' Grain Co., and that in return the company will extend its operations into Alberta and build sixty elevators in that province. This will make the strongest grain bonding company in the world.

This arrangement will have a most far-reaching effect upon the grain trade of Western Canada, for it means that the Grain Growers' Grain Co. will now extend its operations over the three prairie provinces and will enter into active competition with an even basis with the big elevator companies of the west.

WILL BE A BIG FACTOR

The Grain Growers' Grain company is now virtually doing a business with the government both Manitoba and Saskatchewan and the latest move means that it will extend its operations over the whole of the wheat-growing territory of the Canadian west.

Four years ago, at the solicitation of the Grain Growers' Association of Manitoba, the provincial government of this province established a system of state-owned elevators, but in the operation of these the government refused to give to the grain growers absolute control so far the govern-

The result was that the system was received with considerable indifference, if not hostility, by the Grain Growers' Grain company, a corporation that does the marketing of grain for the grain growers, the consequence being that these elevators were not profitable, and were turned over to the Grain Growers' Grain company a few months ago.

HAD EYES ON ALBERTA.
Prior to this an arrangements had been made with the elevator commission in Saskatchewan by which the Cattle Company had been

Grain Growers' Grain company actuated by the fact that the selling agents for the co-operative system in that province, and the largest system in the Manitoba elevator company the Grain Growers' Grain company a big lift in the grain business, and some time it has been known that the heads of this company have what their eyes set on Alberta, where the ever-increasing area given to wheat raising promised a remunerative field, and the consummation of negotiations between the interested parties, today makes the Grain Growers' Grain company into Alberta under conditions which will make it a big factor in that province's future grain business in that province, and places it on a footing which undoubtedly will make it a most successful competitor with the big business companies in the near future.

Berger-Johnson

On Saturday evening, Dec. 29th, the home of Pastor Corneliusen, Iver Berger, who has been in charge of the farm of Mr. Soby, and Miss Gardia Johnson who has been assisting in the home of Mr. Soby, were made man and wife. The groom was supported by his father, and the bridesmaid by Miss Pauline Lund. The wedding party was entertained to dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Soby, after the ceremony. The couple left on the evening train for the north on a brief honeymoon. Their departure was marked by the firing of a salute from the old and new shore. The young folks who were thus speeding the bridal couple returned to the home of Rev. Corneliusen and as a surprise, a party of sixteen presented the pastor with a handsome sum of money. After a brief refreshment and otherwise enjoying the hours the party dispersed.

Young People's Meeting

The Young People's Society of the Presbyterian Church held their first meeting in the New Year on Monday evening. Mr. H. S. Brevetto was in charge, and gave a splendid paper on "The Ideal Christian, His Consolation." It is just a year since the society organized and through the able work of all the officers, has become going ahead in leaps and bounds. The meetings are helpful to all young people and a hearty invitation is extended to all.

The topic for next Monday evening is "Become a Christian. Why not?" given by Miss West.

Thrift, regular, occasional savings seldom accomplish much. It's the steady, persistent, regular depositing of so many dollars a week, or month, or season, in the Union Bank of Canada, which makes one financially independent. The money accumulates all the more rapidly, too, because of the interest which is added every six months.

Co-operative Marketing

One fact made abundantly clear by the various investigations into the high cost of living is that the consumer pays too large a fee for the work done by the middleman. The remedy for this is clearly co-operative marketing by the farmers. In a convention of Wisconsin dairy-men recently one of the speakers is reported to have said that the United States farmers received about five billion dollars for farm products for which the consumers paid ten billions. That farming properly organized would be a very profitable business he infers by stating that the farmer is the only fellow in the world who takes the other fellows' price and still keep from going into bankruptcy.—University of Alberta Press Bulletin.

The Agricultural College as a Force in Agriculture

Alberta is working out a very complete system of agricultural education including high schools, demonstration farms and a college. That this course is a wise one the following paragraph from Hoard's Dairyman would seem to indicate:

"The three great forces of agriculture are: First, the farm, where its material results are wrought out; second, the school, where the theory and practice of farming are taught and the relationship of both to science is explained; third, the agricultural press, where theory, practice and science are discussed. It follows in the trend of all human things that there will be poor farmers, poor teachers, and poor editors in spite of all that can be done. But clear above this debris and obfuscating stands the clear truth, that it is of great advantage to the farmer if he can have the opportunity to spend some time in study at the agricultural college. Here is a strong concentration of the best and latest that is known concerning farming. For the farmer to wrap himself up in a cloak of narrow prejudice and turn his back on the college, is like one who would not go to a table where food was consecrated to eat, or to a store where fuel was concentrated to warm himself. If there was ever a thing created that ought to be welcomed with hearty appreciation by the farmers, it is the agricultural college short course.... Every farmer who wishes to help his boys to larger advantage in the race of life can do nothing for them of greater service than to give them a term or two in a college short course. It will help them greatly as farmers all their lives. They are in a different class at once."

An Alternative Route for Grain to the Pacific

FARMERS IN CONVENTION WILL DISCUSS UTILITY OF RIVER ROUTE
(News-Telegram)

Questions of great importance to the farmers of Alberta, and consequently to everybody in Alberta, will come up for discussion at the annual convention of the United Farmers of Alberta to be held in Regent Hall January 21, 22 and 23. Among the matters that will come up will be internal elevators, direct legislation, life insurance, the parcels post, the municipalities bill and probably the question of terminal facilities at Vancouver in preparation for the opening of the Panama canal.

It is probable that there will be from 100 to 200 delegates at the convention. There are 15,000 members of the United Farmers of Alberta. Another question that will come up will be that of the proposed grain route down the Fraser river to the sea from Revelstoke, B.C. Also an alternative route from Kamloops, B.C., via the Columbia river, will be brought before the convention. The farmers will probably decide as to which route should be favored and they may pass a resolution asking the government to take steps to make one or the other navigable.

As for the parcels post it is probable that the convention will pass a resolution asking the Dominion government to give Canada the parcels post. The United States adopted the system recently and the farmers are of the opinion that Canada should get into line with other civilized countries in the matter. Already it is in use in 30 countries, including all countries populated by white people except Canada. They want to have Canada brought in line.

As for elevators, they are needed all over Alberta. The farmers may ask for government help in the construction of storage elevators. In Saskatchewan there are now 140 internal storage elevators, in the providing of which the provincial government is assisted. At the convention the farmers will decide on the best course to take in order to get them.

It is probable that they will ask the provincial government to help them. Anyway, they want the elevators and they will be built.

As for direct legislation, it is altogether likely that they will take the stand they took at the last convention, in favor of such legislation. At the last convention they passed a resolution to which 4,000 names were appended, asking for direct legislation.

The question of transportation may be taken up, but it is not likely that anything will be done in the matter. There are districts in which better transportation facilities and branch line are needed but the farmers prefer taking up the question in other ways.

The matter of terminal facilities at Vancouver for the handling of the Panama canal traffic, will be discussed, probably. The farmers are of the opinion generally speaking that the Dominion government should charge and operate the Vancouver terminal. It is possible that they will pass a resolution asking that the government take steps in the matter.

The municipalities bill is another matter that will be dealt with. So far as the principle is concerned the farmers favor it, but they believe it could be improved by minor amendments.

Regarding land insurance the farmers of some districts are satisfied with the private companies while in other districts they are not. The matter will be threshed out in the convention. It is probable that some decision will be arrived at in the matter.

Not an Unnecessary Reminder

The secretary of the Claresholm Curling Club is reminding the members who have overlooked the payment of the assessment for this season that same is due and needed for the financing of the Club.

Britcher Curlers Foregather

A large representation of the curlers were present at the parlors of the American Restaurant last Saturday evening, the half who were on the rink on the Vice-president's side to enjoy the hospitality of the members of the rinks on the President's side. Oysters were the headline on the menu. The president in his remarks spoke feelingly of the breaks in the ranks caused by death and removal during the year. He referred also to the successful financing of the rink proposition. The secretary gave a brief statement of finances and showing the necessity which calls for the prompt payment of the fees. Credit was quite properly given to the secretary, Mr. Ringrose and Mr. McNicol for their untiring efforts to secure ice early by curling night and dry the little drops in temperature until such a good surface had been secured long before curling ice was obtained in other places near by. The president, being compelled to leave early Vice-president Holmes took the chair. Several of the curlers spoke briefly and in a humorous vein, genes were re-played in details, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Miss Host Bosse had everything arranged nicely for the comfort and taste of the banquet and the curlers are looking forward to another excuse to visit and "have a crack w' it" under similar pleasant conditions.

While Mr. and Mrs. John Jack were skating together at the rink last Tuesday evening their skates became entangled throwing both of them heavily to the ice. John was carried unconscious to the waiting-room but recovered after a short time.

Cyril Hendrick of the Glangery Ranch, left Tuesday night for a three months' visit with his mother in England. His brother is already on his way home, too. It is nine years since "Gill" visited his old home and he looks forward to the visit with great pleasure.

Miss A. R. MacIver, who has been teaching in the public school during the past term left for Calgary on Monday. During her stay here she has been an able worker in the Presbyterian Young People's Society and will be greatly missed by all her friends.

Har Leaving Regretted

Miss Stella Camroux left last Friday to return to Langham, Sask., where "the" lives. "Gill" is with the Bank of Commerce there and has apparently been homesick. Miss Camroux will be very much missed in dramatic and social circles here. During her short stay she has made many friends and her departure was much regretted. However "youth must have his way" and there was no argument here strong enough to hold Miss Camroux. Her position on the postoffice staff has been taken by Miss Fleming of Ponoka.

A MESSAGE FOR THE NEW YEAR
A Single Stitch
One small life in God's great plan,
How futile it seems to us the ages roll—
Do what it may, or strive how it can,
To alter the sweep of the infinite whole!
A single stitch in an endless web,
A drop in the ocean's flow and ebb;
But the pattern is rent where the stitch is lost,
Or matted where the tangled threads have crossed;
And each life that fails in its true intent
Mars the perfect plan that its Master

THE THING THAT MAKE YOU GLAD
When the years have slipped by and memory runs back along the path you have trod you will be glad that you stopped to speak to every friend that you met, and left them all with a warmer feeling in their hearts because you did so.
You will be glad that you were happy when doing the small, everyday things of life; that you secured the best you could in life's lowly round.

You will be glad that men have made all along your way "I know that I can trust him. He is as true as steel."
You will be glad that there have been many rainy days in your life. If there were no storms the fountain would dry up, the sky would be filled with poisonous vapors, and life would cease.

You will be glad that you stopped long enough every day to read carefully and with a prayer in your heart some part of God's message to those he loves.
You will be glad that you shut your ears tight against the evil things men said about one another and tried the best you could to stay the words winged with poison.

You will be glad that you brought smiles to men and not sorrow.
You will be glad that you have met with better handicaps than most things which have come to you, never dodging out of them, but turning them all to the best possible account.—The Presbyterians.

ULSTER HOME RULE

NORTHERN PROVINCE MUST SHARE WITH ALL IRELAND

Ed Edward Carson Declares That Never, Under the Use of Force, Will the Ulster People Submit to Home Rule—Would Rather Be Ruled by a Foreign Country.

LONDON.—An attempt was made to snail some republican members of the House of Commons, in the House of Commons. The members from Ulster proposed a resolution at which he refused to attend a meeting in the northern province of Ireland from the operations of the Home Rule Bill.

Mr. Edward Carson, in moving an amendment to that effect, pleaded for serious consideration of the question, which might be said to be vital to the success of the bill not to the whole constitution of the United Kingdom.

It was said a question of whether the House of Commons had made up its mind to drive Ulster out of the constitution under which it desired to remain. Never without the use of force could the Ulster people be forced to submit to the degradation of a Parliament in Dublin which was so abhorrent and inhumane to them.

Mr. Carson immediately made it quite clear that the Government would not accept the Home Rule Bill. He declared that he declared as the effect of the amendment would be to send the Ulster people to the counties from the operations of the Act, Ireland, he continued, must be treated as a whole, and the long term what is beneficial for the country as a whole, and the long term long term be injurious to any part.

The Premier asked the Ulsterites to declare clearly what their attitude would be if the Home Rule Bill were present form was submitted to the electorate and approved.

Andrew Bonar Law, the leader of the Opposition and the Ulsterites were put before the electorate and they supported it. The Conservative party would not encourage the Ulsterites by the Ulsterites. But if the Government attempted to force the Ulsterites through against the wishes of the people of Ulster he would not assist them in redefining it.

Mr. Carson declared that he would not assist the Ulsterites to declare clearly what their attitude would be if the Home Rule Bill were present form was submitted to the electorate and approved.

Onward Bible Class Banquet

Upwards of one hundred responded to the invitation sent out by the Onward Bible Class of the Methodist Church and enjoyed a delicious banquet in a most thorough fashion. The parlors of the church were tastefully decorated for the occasion and the tables groined under the weight of the appetizing spread which was placed before the guests. The members of the class invited each other to make their guests feel at home and they succeeded. Three long tables barely sufficed to seat the banquet and the attractive food-offering suffered for want of room. The program was entered upon. Mr. A. E. Strange presided, of membership committee, acted as hostmaster.

The after part of the evening's enjoyment was enjoyed by an instrumental duet. Miss Spence followed with a reading, splendidly rendered, of the theme upon the use of the drink traffic. In response to the toast, "Our School" the superintendent, Mr. A. F. Boniface, urged the vital connection of school and church and the importance of each to the school in the work which a Sunday School undertakes. He wanted progression or advancement in method and in ideals. Mrs. D. Stupfield's solo was remarkably well appreciated and had that lady not been compelled to leave the audience would have excited a response to the encore. The address of the evening was "The Bible and Life" by the Rev. Dalgleish, pastor of the High River Methodist Church. He discussed the Bible from the literary and theological standpoints. The address was a masterly one and was full of interest. Gerald McClean sang most acceptably. "The Bell in the Lighthouse." Mrs. Jas. McKinney spoke to the host, "The Book We Study," catalogued the Bible as the book for old and young, for prince and peasant, for scientist or for the illiterate. It goes on in its grand emphatic way stating facts but not attempting to prove itself. Scientists study it in the attempt to prove or disprove its statements but there is no apology within itself for itself. Codes may be enunciated as new but study will show that if they are moral they are old. The Bible is the oldest of books and as old as its truth as old as God. Man does not outgrow its teaching. They are perennial in youth and adaptability. The strong life is the life which is trust to its teaching. An instrumental was given by Miss Schoof which was very pleasingly rendered. Rev. Wm. McInchall brought the greetings of the "Sister Organization," and in a brief speech gave three topics for the consideration of the friends of Sunday School work, the forward look, the backward and inward look and the upward look. Just these last words as a guide to thought brought their own message. Miss Harrison sang and responded to a very interesting encore. The class program given by Alice Goose was a most gratifying tale of progress. A membership of 50, an active membership of 38, an average attendance of 24, and collection of $89.75 tells its own story. Mrs. O. C. Ehnies, the president of the class, spoke to the toast "Our Class." She explained the organization of the class, having its own president and secretary, its own teacher. An organized corps of soldiers for the study and living of the teachings of the Word. They were proud of the class, proud of the leader. They wanted others to come and enjoy the lessons they were studying with them. She extended a cordial welcome to all who were not already identified with the class to associate themselves with it. She wanted those who were members to exult in their leader by their presence at the class. Her message was individual responsibility. No one doubted Mr. Peck when he said he had enjoyed all parts of the evening's program. He gave a brief history of the growth of the church here. Having witnessed the growth under less favorable circumstances than now prevail he was assured that progress would still be written in the future history of the Methodist church here. Jas. McKinney looked forward to greater development. Rev. Harrison on behalf of the class thanked all who had contributed to the success of the evening. He extended a cordial welcome to the meetings of the Onward Bible Class. The singing of the Doxology and the pronouncing of the benediction by Mr. Hallett closed the delightful evening's entertainment.

Health Officer's Report

To the Mayor and Members of the Town Council, Clareholm, Alberta: Gentlemen: In accordance with the regulation of the Provincial Board of Health, I beg to submit my report as Medical Officer of Health for the month of Clareholm.

15th, and I do not think my predecessor sent in a report of the period from Jan. 1st to Sept. 15th. As I was unable to secure any information from him regarding this period, my report will cover merely the time I have held the office.

During the last three months, Clareholm has been almost free of infectious diseases, only two cases having been reported, both of typhoid fever, and in both cases the disease was contracted outside of the town, and the patients brought to the hospital for treatment. Both cases recovered.

During the latter part of September some of the residents living on the east side of the Railway, made a complaint regarding the unsanitary condition of a lot piece of land on C. P. R. property east of the track, and south of the station, which had filled up with water, and become stagnant. I wrote to the Supt. of the C. P. R. at Canby, and the spot was filled in with earth, thus doing away with the nuisance.

Some minor complaints regarding garbage and water works have been made, and on investigation, the citizens concerned have responded to the request to give no further cause for such complaints.

I would call your attention to the following, as one of the definitions of a nuisance, made in sub section 6, section 122 of the Regulations of the Provincial Board of Health: "Any privy pit, in cities or towns, unless such pit is properly constructed of concrete or of brick lined with cement so as to be non-porous," and also to section 123: "Every house or village shall be kept in such a state of sanitary cleanliness as to be proper for habitation."

Both of these sections are violated in Clareholm. Privy pits are the rule, and I venture to say that there are few or none constructed according to the Regulations, and this section cannot be complied with until the Town makes provision for the emptying of buckets which are used for the disposal of the privies. In the few cases where the buckets have been used, it has been almost impossible to get them emptied. If the town engaged a scavenger for this work, the Health Board could then insist that privies be done away with, and buckets substituted. The scavenger could also collect the garbage and refuse that comes from every kitchen. If the scavenging were done in a proper manner, it would make quite a difference in the appearance of the town, and would better safeguard the Public Health, which is, or ought to be, one of the chief considerations of every community.

Yours truly,

Chas. H. Stapleford
Medical Officer of Health.

Vance, and Jonas Webber, recitation, "Two Little Stockings," Ruth McComb, chorus, "Jingle Bells," and of course will be less on some quartet, Vadnais, fancy flag drill, recitation, "Old Santa Claus," Lucy Hark, song, "Kilnary," Capt. D. A. McKinnon, recitation, "The Little Star," B. J. Vance, recitation, "Pass It On," Florence Vance, song, John Thompson, recitation, "When I've Been Born," Robert McComb, recitation, "Little J. Hark," Robert Vadnais, recitation, "Liza," Richard Vadnais, dialogue, "Watching for Santa Claus," Carie Vadnais and Beatie Bell, chorus, "The Little Star," "Forever," and "God Save the King."

A drama was also a part of the program and afforded much fun. The title of this concert was "The Backwoods School." The cast of characters were Prof. Santa Claus, the teacher, School, Alex Bell, Jr., and pupils, John Jones, Solomon North, Bill Smith, Son Walker, Jack Hicks, Jim, and Joe Blobs, which characters were taken by Wallace Bell, Capt. D. A. McKinnon, Joseph Vadnais, R. Vance, Richard Vadnais, Jonas Webber and Byron Vadnais, respectively. Santa Claus made his annual appearance in time-honored style, refreshments were served and the evening's entertainment wound up with a dance which was not the least enjoyable part of the jollity. Miss George Smyth, of Calgary, presided at the piano to the enjoyment of all. Excellent music was furnished for the dance by Mr. and Mrs. DeForest, assisted ably by Harrold DeForest and Rick's Bros.

First Meeting of Council of Argyle Rural Municipality

HEAD LAW PASSED FIRST READING
The first meeting of the council of the newly formed rural municipality of Argyle was held at Woodhouse on Monday, Dec. 30th, 1912. The council is composed of the following gentlemen: F. Garrow, J. Stevenson, Geo. W. Miller, M. F. Matheson, and W. J. Holding. The municipality consists of townships 10, 11, and 12 in 27, 10, 11 and 12 in 26, and that part of 10 north of the Old Man River, 11 and 12 in 25. Mr. Matheson is in charge of plots. 10 and 11 in 25; Mr. Garrow in 10 and 11 in 26; Mr. Holding, 9 and 10 in 27; Mr. Stevenson, 1 and 12 in 27; and Mr. Miller, 12 in 25 and 12 in 26.

Fred Garrow was appointed reeve and M. F. Matheson, deputy reeve. The Council appointed A. H. Torelli secretary-treasurer and J. Allison, of Graman, assessor. After considerable discussion they decided to assess land three miles from the right-of-way of a railroad at a maximum rate of $21 per acre, land three to six miles, at $20 per acre and the balance of the municipality at $10. This is the maximum rate and of course will be less on some quartet. A by-law which will be published in full in the near future, called the Herd By-Law, passed its first reading. This by-law of will prohibit that all animals in the municipality will have to be kept under fence of herded the year round and if the animals are found off the premises of the owner they may be impounded. This by-law met with the approbation of all the councillors. The reeve, Stevenson, was empowered to pay all accounts in connection with the reeve's office as soon as sufficient funds are available. He was also instructed to get in touch with the other municipalities

Don't Be Bald

NEARLY ANTONY MAY SECURE A SPLENDID GROWTH OF HAIR.

We have a remedy that has a record of retained baldness and promoting hair growth in 95 out of 100 cases where used according to directions for a reasonable length of time. That may seem like a strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be, and no one should doubt it until they have put our claims to an actual test.

We are so certain "409" Hair Tonic will eradicate dandruff, act to prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp, make the hair roots arrest premature loss of hair and promote hair growth, that we personally give our positive guarantee to refund every penny paid for it in every instance where it does not give satisfaction to the user.

Recall "409" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is delightfully perfumed, and does not grease or gum the hair. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. With our guarantee back to you, it certainly takes no risk. Sold only at our store—The Retail Store, O. L. Heinicke.

Colley-Christien

At Bourley, Conn., on Dec. 31st, J. W. Colley, collector for the International Harvester Co., and Miss Grace Christien, were united in marriage at the home of the parents of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Colley arrived here last Tuesday and will make this their home occupying the house east of the track, formerly the home of W. T. Cochran. Mr. Colley is well known here and his many friends extend to him and his wife their heartiest congratulations.

Blamed on the Gas

OKOTOKS Jan. 6.—A natural gas explosion wrecked the kitchen at the rear of George Stagg's residence at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The sides were blown out and the ceiling fell from one side and rested on the sidewalk. The fire alarm was sounded and the brigade soon quenched the flames with a little chemical. Three adults in the kitchen were unhurt. A baby in the yard, "smothered" from the porch into the yard, was uninjured. The house is owned by W. S. Cameron of Calgary.
